

Romanian-American University

The Romanian-American University, the first university in Romania to promote the educational values of American higher education, has more than 32 years of experience. Through its study programs and university activities geared toward students and society overall, the university helps promote excellence in education, scientific research, and innovation.

RAU's educational offer is defined by quality in education, performance, modern study facilities, and student mobility through over 250 international academic partnerships. The University offers attractive bachelor and master study programs, taught in Romanian or exclusively in English, as well as double degree programs with the University of York (UK), Northwood University (USA), St. Francis (USA), and the University of Siena (Italy), depending on the chosen program.

The university's vibrant campus offers students laboratories, lecture halls, classrooms, and seminar rooms, as well as elegant event spaces, all equipped with technology that meets international standards. For study purposes, it provides both a physical and a virtual library with free access to international databases and reading rooms. Across the entire campus, students benefit from free Wi-Fi access. The campus also includes a restaurant-cafeteria, two cafes, and a medical office. The university's dormitory-hotel features 140 rooms with private bathrooms and a total capacity of 360 people.
